HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1899.

No. 29.

CENTERTOWN, KY.

Feb. 1st—Alvin Rowe and wife are on the sick list, suffering with the grip.

Mr. Tom Ball and Mrs. Jake Bennett are sick, but not in danger.

Mrs. L. C. Morton has about recovered from her recent illness.

Uncle James Iggleheart, West Point, is dangerously ill at this writing.

Dr. G. F. Chapman was in Owensboro last week on business.

Our brass band boys have employed a Mr. Taylor to instruct them a short time in the use of their horns, and we are anxiously waiting for some good music.

Rev. Tom Morton is conducting a successful revival at Oak Grove. He will be home this week and likely assist Revs. Richardson and Miller in a revival at this place, which began on last Sunday.

Mr. Sam M. James has moved from here to Aunt Jane Tichenor's farm in the West Point neighborhood.

Now we are getting ready to see our man, R. C. Jarnagin, out on the warpath. We want him to come out and he a winner from start to finish. It is likely he can do us more good than any man that could be elected, having been in our legislative body once, he perhaps can a greater benefit to us in the next. Then we want and must have some plan hatched to defeat that blessed Goebel election law. We may be off of our base, but we thought the yoke of slavery was thrown off years ago, but it appears that we are drifting away from that form of government that is of the people, by the people and for the people. We will live it by and by.

SUE.

NO CURE—NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's TASTELESS CHILL TONIC for Malaria, Chills and Fever. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

It's Safe Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise."

This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. H. Williams' Drug Store, every bottle guaranteed.

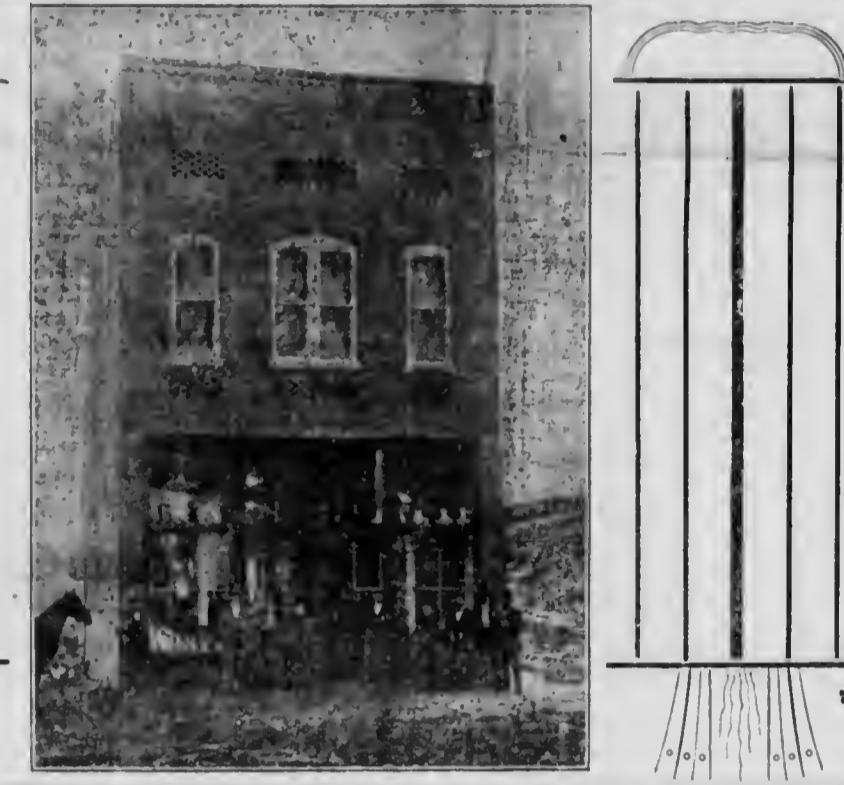

A Canadian Invention.

Human genius having already made the nineteenth the richest of the centuries in useful inventions is about to crown its labors with an achievement which, if successful will practically remove the oceans from between the continents, and make it possible for sport-loving Londoners to leave home at noon witness a prize fight in New York at night and return home for dinner next day.

Frederick Knapp, a Canadian inventor, has been engaged for two years upon a water craft that will roll upon the surface of water like a barrel. Inventor Knapp recently gave an exhibition of his model before a number of capitalists who were so pleased with its workings that they at once put up unlimited capital for the purpose of building a huge sea-

Another Soldier Boy's Letter.

Matanzas, Cuba, Jan. 27.—Mrs. E. J. Hudson. Dear Mother: As I have not received a letter from you since I arrived here, I will write you. I am well satisfied, more than I thought I would be. We arrived here last Saturday morning at 7 o'clock safe. We were on the water 56 hours. The transport that we came on just finished unloading yesterday afternoon and departed for the United States last night. Some of the boys were wishing that they were on board going back. I do not want to come home yet, as I have just seen enough to make me want to see more. We are not faring as well as we did in the U.S., but one could not expect it.

Matanzas is quite a pretty place and once upon a time was a very fine city. We are camped right in the edge of the city. All the houses are built of rock and mortar and smoothly finished inside and out. These people have no window blinds to their windows. All the houses are built solidly together in blocks. The windows and doors are about 12 feet high and 4½ feet wide. Each window is protected by iron bars in upright position. The doors are most all panel doors and made of very plain wood. The houses remind me of the old jail where Mr. Henry Griffin lives, as well as I can remember. The streets are about 30 feet wide. The sidewalks are about 3½ feet, so it reminds one of going through the prison walls at a penitentiary. The people are very polite to us Americans. There are three kinds—the Spanish, Cuban and negro. The full blood Cuban is about the color of Dan Hines. The Spaniards are almost as white as we are, but have high cheek bones like an Indian. Of course there are some white Cubans.

There are some as aristocratic people here as there are in the United States. They have their fine carriages and horses and wear the finest of silk, but when they come out they look as if they had stuck their head in a flour barrel. All the trouble is, we can't understand their language, nor they ours. I have learned a great deal since I left the United States and want to stay long enough to learn all their language. I can understand some of it already. Such words as man, dog, match and lots of words. They take a delight in trying to tell us. Of course they learn ours at the same time. They will sit down and take hold of our hat and say "American." It is a shame the way the Spaniards did the Cubans. Answer soon.

You're truly, IRA RAGLAND,

A Pathetic Story.

A pathetic incident occurred out in the Evening Shade neighborhood a few days ago. Little Allie Glade, the nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. Molie Glade, died about four weeks ago. Allie possessed such a sweet, mellow voice that she was known for miles around as the song-bird of Evening Shade. A towering range of rocky hills broken here and there by a deep ravine, formed a crescent east of Allie's home, and often when she sang her mother stood upon the veranda and listened to her childish voice echoing back from the rocky cliffs. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are now to announce Hon. R. C. Barnard, of Beaver Dam, as a candidate for the nomination for Representative, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Do you know that the editor of the Herald lives way back on Fox Alley? He does.

By due process of law the neck of William Miller, a negro rapist, was broken at LaGrange last Friday. Miller assaulted Mrs. Frank Lee near LaGrange, September 1, 1898.

The Owensboro Messenger says: "The days of the Louisville Dispatch are numbered." Uncle Urey gave the Courier-Journal fits for making the same prediction about two years ago.

Prof. S. C. Stevens, of the Beaver Dam Seminary, has assumed the responsible duties of associate editor of the Beaver Dam Gleaner with Mr. L. L. L. Mr. Stevens' ability, energy and pluck will be a very valuable addition to the Gleaner.

AGONIZINGO, Aguinaldo's representative in the United States, decided Saturday night about the time the engagement at Manila began that the air about Washington was too heavy, rather oppressive and dangerous, consequently set about in the blackness of the night his course to Canada.

Latest reports from Manila place the total casualties at 56 killed and 190 wounded. The rebel loss is estimated at 2,000 killed, over 4,000 wounded and 6,000 to 8,000 prisoners. Manila quiet and America successful, everywhere. "The fighting qualities of American soldiers a revelation to all the inhabitants," says Otis.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY says he would not hold the Governor's office another term under prevailing conditions as a gracious gift. Continuing abuse in and out of his party, persistent annoyance by people seeking unusual favors and the clamor of trusts and corporations for special favors, make the position of Governor anything but pleasant.

EX-CONGRESSMAN STONE is out in a card for the Democratic nomination for Gover. or on a Bryan for 1900 and a 16 to 1 platform and opposes making the Goebel election law an issue in the approaching campaign. Most Democrats will endorse the last plank of Mr. Stone's platform, but the Republicans will attend to that part of the campaign.

MONDAY'S Commercial contained the elaborate dissenting opinion of Judge Gully on the Goebel election law. It is an ably prepared document, setting forth in remarkable clearness the points where the law is unconstitutional. Every point made against the law is clearly sustained by the constitution and backed up by sound logical reasoning which cannot be refuted.

AS BETWEEN Goebel and Harbin the people believe that P. Wat is the least of the two evils — Breckinridge News (Dem.) If there be any "least." But between either and Judge Taylor in the final election the people will say unto the latter: "Thou hast been faithful in a few things, we will now crown thee and make thee ruler over many."

THE Hartford Herald in an article commanding the Goebel election law says:

"We suggest to Mr. J. R. Wedding (member county board election commissioners) that he write a card for his organ here telling all about the meanness and baseness of the Goebel election law."

Unnecessary, brother, South Trimme did that two months ago.

"This most august body in the world" ratified the peace treaty Monday afternoon by just one vote more than the necessary two-thirds majority. But for the battle at Manila Saturday night, in which the lives of thirty American soldiers were sacrificed to the spirit of lawlessness inspired among the ignorant Filipinos by the speeches of ignorant United States Senators, the treaty would have failed of ratification by the Senate.

THE administration is contemplating sending a squadron of American battleships, under command of Admiral Schley, on a cruise of European waters. The presence of Admiral Schley — at least, the grandest hero of the Spanish war — commanding a squadron of the battle-scarred steel monsters that destroyed the Spanish fleet at Santiago before the seaport cities of the old world would largely increase the respect of Europe for the western republic.

We have received a sample copy of the Los Angeles Times, a magazine published at Los Angeles, Cal. It is a beautiful and most excellent monthly magazine. It is devoted to the moral and social development of the great southwest. The January number gives a history of the marvelous development of southern California and especially describes the wonderful growth of Los Angeles. It should be read by every person desiring a western home.

SATURDAY night about 8 o'clock a battle occurred between American soldiers and the Filipinos on the outskirts of Manila. The fight was precipitated by the insurgents and was kept up at intervals throughout the night and only closed when daylight came to enable the American soldiers to locate the Philippines and drive them beyond the American outposts. The American loss was about thirty killed and one hundred wounded. More than three hundred Filipinos were killed and as many more wounded and taken prisoners.

THE COURIER-JOURNAL Company has added a very interesting and commendable feature to the daily Courier-Journal, in the form of the Home Reading Circle. Beginning with February 15th the Home Reading Circle will discuss the Governments of the world of to day, popular studies in literature, the world's great artists, popular studies in European History and the World's Great Commercial Products. This promises to be not only interesting, but very instructive and beneficial. It will be most excellent supplementary reading for teachers especially.

A STATEMENT recently issued by the State Banking Commissions of Michigan sets forth that the state banks and trust companies of that state at the close of business, December 1, 1898, had resources aggregating $106,069,058.88, as compared with the last previous report made September 20, 1898. The statement shows increase in loans and discounts, stocks, bonds and mortgages of $185,264.45, and in the savings deposited of $1,428,134.75. The actual business of the country tells more emphatically than pen can tell, of its prosperity. A sure sign of prosperity and thrift is the constant flow of the people's earnings to banks of deposits.

THE Herald insists that the Goebel force bill is no longer a question of policy, but a branch of our organic law and that it is no use to kick against it. Just think how unfortunate for the South that the Herald man did not come on the scene in the early sixties. He need only have told Garrison and Phillips and Seward and Lincoln that slavery was a part of the organic law of the land to put these illustrious agitators on perpetual silence; how unfortunate for the witch burners of Massachusetts that they were denied the princely presence of the Herald man to tell the old fogies who opposed the practice that punishment for witchcraft was a part of the organic law of the State and the sportive practice might have gone on forever. But then there is sometimes comfort amid calamity, and the Herald's brilliant philosophy will estop it from further kick against the "atricking down of silver," because it is no longer a policy, but a part of the organic law of the land.

STATE COLLEGE LETTER.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 6.—If you think my little mite would be of interest to your readers you may have the pleasure of publishing it.

This is the first Sunday in February and it is a cold day. A thin sleet is on the ground. During the cold and lonesome hours of Saturday and Sunday I took a cranky notion that I would write a few lines to the REPUBLICAN. I like the paper very well, having had access to it nearly all my life. I feel a nearness to it that makes me want to uphold it.

I am very well pleased with the State College, but I can't get used to the roll call and inspection. It is a military school throughout. We have to drill every day, especially the new "greenhorn" like myself. The chief sport is putting newcomers on guard duty. The school is expecting to be sent to some important place in the State, toward the last of the school for a week encampment, an occasion to which we all look with pride to think that our old Commonwealth wants to show us something of her beauty and grandeur. Mammoth Cave, Cumberland Gap and Ashland have been mentioned. I have an excellent view of the city from my window on third floor in Old Dormitory. I can see the Henry Clay Monument about two or three miles away.

I have just gotten my uniform and being a queer sort of creature I feel as proud of it as I did of my first pair of pants. I don't know how high I will step, but we have to wear standing collars and I will have to look high.

My buddy who came with me has measles, so has many of the students here. He has just called for something to gnaw on and I, being an obedient nurse handed him the milk and crackers that had been provided for him. He is very well satisfied under the circumstances.

I have just been down to the Y. M. C. A. Hall to a lecture given by Mrs. Beauchamp, of this city. It was interesting throughout.

With beat regards to the REPUBLICAN and the citizens of Ohio county, I remain one of her students at Kentucky State College, School Boy.

The Best Prescription for Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteful Cold Balsam Tonic. Never fails to cure; then why experiment with worthless imitations? Price, 50c.

pouring in upon him "a volley of abuse and billingsgate." We do not indulge in such, but in reply to his unmanly and slanderous charge upon Republican office holders in Kentucky, we used plain English and declared it to be falsely said and still reaffirm the declaration.

Again, he refers to THE REPUBLICAN as "the mud mill down in Fox alley is always the first to belch forth its trade of foul names and invectives." Such a reference, to say the least of it, is coarse and low and base and portrays upon its face the character of him who wrote it. It is uncouth, unbecoming the profession and unbecoming a gentleman.

SMOKED OUT.

Until this week the Hartford Herald has treated this paper, since its change of management, very much like the Courier-Journal treated the Louisville Dispatch — with silent contempt — but in our last issue we made it so hot for the Herald man that he came out of his hole and gave us, in his recent issue, a two column ad.

The Herald last week made, as we thought, some unjust charges against Republican officeholders in Kentucky, to which we rejoined in a rather vigorous style, but since that paper in Wednesday's issue makes ample apology by saying it was all a joke we invite him to come over to our wigwam and we will smoke the pipe of peace in brotherly love.

IT'S RACE IS RUN."

At a meeting of the Bandana Club of Louisville, Tuesday night last, Mr. Wallace McKay, who was Presidential elector on the Bryan ticket from the Fifth Congressional District of Kentucky, made the following statement in regard to the Louisville Dispatch:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I deeply regret to see the downfall of the Dispatch. Its establishment was bailed with delight by the thousands of sturdy Democrats of Kentucky who believe in the principles of the Chicago platform. I helped to conceive the Dispatch, was present at its birth and christened it with the name it now bears. I asked my friends to help it, and it is with a sense of shame that I face them now, since its editor has openly charged that it has betrayed us. It is now serving the devil in the liver of heaven. The people have lost faith in it and are daily repudiating it all over Kentucky. This paper which the people established as a defender of their rights and champion of their principles, now rests under a cloud of shame and disgrace, and Mr. Bryan himself has lost all faith and confidence in it.

"It still protests its loyalty, but when the opportunity comes it will put its poisonous fangs into the breast which warmed it to life. We should now brand it before its dupes others. It doom is sealed — its race is run; its days were few and full of trouble, and it will, ere long, go down to an untimely grave, with the curses of all good Democrats ringing in its ears, unwept, unboned and unsung."

LITERARY AND SOCIAL EVENTS.
MISS ATTIE AUSTIN, Editor.

The Hypathian Literary Society of Hartford College, a society of young ladies banded together for the purpose of mutual aid and literary advancement, was organized in 1893. Since that time its members have been engaged in a work collateral and necessary to the well rounded and complete college course. Just outside the domain of every institution of learning there is a social and literary work which is absolutely necessary for the welfare of the people. The young ladies composing this body have at all times recognized the high purpose and aim upon which an organization of this kind should be founded. The good derived from this body of co-workers has ever been so eminent as to attract the best talent that has assembled about the halls of Hartford College. Year after year have they toiled and struggled, year after year have they sent out into the world, young ladies to do battle for themselves, and at whom the active members of the to day gladly point the finger of pride. This year is no exception to the years of the past; the most thoughtful, the most gilded, and those who are most interested in the training and polish of the immortal mind are to be found among the members of this society. The works of the past have crowned this society with honors, and each year has sent out from our midst young ladies who have been made complete in their commercial, social, and domestic relations in life from the fact that they were "Ily-patians."

Though the night was dark and gloomy, brightness and merriment prevailed last Friday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Guenther, where the "Entre Nous" club was so charmingly entertained. Miss Austin, the President, called the club to order at 7:30 o'clock and an interesting program was heard by attentive listeners. A newsy paper by Mr. Arthur Bushill, was very much enjoyed. After all business had received thorough attention, the "Entre Nous" was adjourned to meet February 17, 1899, with Miss Annie L. Fogle. The social part of the meeting was enjoyed by each member and the charming hostess deserved many thanks for the pleasure she gave to her guests. The "Butterfly Contest" was an unique feature and handsome prizes were given to the successful contestants, Miss Fogle and Mr. W. D. Moore. At eleven o'clock the club was invited to the tastefully decorated dining room, and there served to them a dainty lunch of salads, ham sandwiches, pickles, leeks, cakes and coffee. As each guest departed bearing away a pretty little souvenir of the pleasant evening, there lingered in each mind a more lasting souvenir and each "good night" breathed a good wish for the hostess of the "Entre Nous."

Mr. J. II. B. Carson, wife and daughter, Miss Mary Austin, gave quite a nice dinner to their relatives last Sunday. Those present were: Mr. John E. Bean and wife, Mr. A. E. Pate and wife, and Miss Cora Bean, their visitor, Mrs. Martha Ross and daughter, Miss Mayme, Mr. M. Bean and wife, Mr. Tom II. Bean, wife, son, Mr. Ira and daughters, Misses Ethel and Hera and Rev. G. J. Bean. Turkey and all necessary "goodies" to complete a fine dinner were to be had and much time was spent in the dining hall.

The "Woman's Club" met with Mrs. J. S. Glenn. They meet to-morrow afternoon with Mrs. Rowan Holbrook. This club has something of interest on foot, and will perhaps be announced in our next publication.

The "Hartford Girls' Club" met with their Secretary, Little Miss Hartie Barnett, last Saturday afternoon. They report quite an enjoyable meeting.

Women Should Know It.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood.

They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womanhood.

Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle of common glass for twenty four hours, are signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble.

In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmur's Swamp Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar.

I have just been down to the Y. M. C. A. Hall to a lecture given by Mrs. Beauchamp, of this city. It was interesting throughout.

Attorney General Taylor wins Important Case

For Sixty Thousand Dollars—Secures a Judgment in the Court of Appeals.

The State last week won in the Court of Appeals one of the most important cases that has been decided for years. Important not only on account of the amount involved, but because of the law of the case.

In September, 1893, the State Sinking Fund Commissioners sold to S. A. Norwan, J. C. Highard and others the output of the chair plant of the penitentiary for four years, with the privilege of renewal for four years, the contractors to pay for each monthly output, 60 days thereafter, with the right to the commissioners to forfeit the contract if delinquency continued 30 days.

On the first day of April, 1896, the chair contractors refused to pay in cash the amount falling due on the first day of March, but tendered in lieu thereof State warrants. These warrants the Sinking Fund Commissioners refused to accept and seven days thereafter forfeited the contract.

SUIT INSTITUTED.

In July, 1896, the State instituted suit against the contractors for the entire amount due, which was at that time $48,337.17, and now amounts to $60,000.

At the September term of the Franklin circuit court the defendants answered and set up the fact of the tender of the State warrants and the forfeiture of their contract, insisting that said forfeiture was wrongful, and pleaded as a counter claim damages to the amount of $90,000. The State demurred to this answer and the legal battle began. The court below sustained the demurral and gave judgment for the full amount sued for.

The case was appealed and was argued at great length by Senator Lindsay for the claim company and Attorney General Taylor for the State.

GEN. TAYLOR SUSTAINED.

The Court of Appeals sustains fully the contention of the State on every point. The most important one was, that the holder of State warrants or other claims against the Commonwealth can not present such claims as a tender, in satisfaction of a debt due the State.

The point has been much discussed by lawyers about the capital for years, but heretofore had not been settled by the Court of Appeals.

The chair company was represented by Senator Lindsay, Judge Prior and T. L. Edelen, the State by Attorney General Taylor.

Attorney General Taylor was the recipient of a number of congratulations in his successful management of this important case.

ACTIVE SOLICITORS WANTED everywhere for "The Story of the Philippines" by Major Hallstead, commissioned by the Government as Official Historian to the War Department. The book was written in army camps at San Francisco, on the Pacific with General Merritt, in the hospitals at Honolulu, in Hong Kong, in the insurgents camps with Aguinaldo, on the deck of the Olympia with Dewey, and in the roar of battle at the fall of Manila. Bonanza for agents. Boniful of original pictures taken by government photographers on the spot. Large hook. Low prices. Big profits. Freight paid. Credit given. Drop all trashy unofficial war books.
